Three Seek Office; Candidates---Marsh, Gruber, D. Walker

Vice-Presidency Race Between Ben Melzer, Jack Wiles; B. Bruch Withdraws

By JAMES MARLAIS

The presidential election Monday takes the spotlight in the concluding stages of the annual Washington Square elections for council seats and student body presidency as the student body in the midst of campaign festivities cast their choices for the successor to President Paul Becker.

Jack Marsh, Don Walker, and Jack Gruber—three leaders of the original list of 20 nominees that trailed Betty Bruch in the week-long climax to the council campaigning are the candidates for the highest office of the student governing body.

Incumbent Ben Melzer, only council member returning for a second term and darkhorse Jack Wiles who surprised by taking sixth position in the close race that found but 145 votes separating the first and last place winners, battle it out for the vice-presidency, while co-ed Betty Bruch, who withdrew from the presidential race despite her sensational rise to the top, looms as the choice for secretary, an appointive position.

Two days of active campaigning remain for student managers as the three presidential candidates, vying for campus control, are voted upon by the students Monday with the run-off election if necessary, June 9.

Spirited electioneering that drew nearly 45 per cent of the student body to the polls is expected to be equalled, if not surpassed in the presidential primaries.

Hobby, Handicraft Fair Ends Today

Today is the final chance for all San Jose State college students to see the Hobby and Handicraft Fair at the San Jose Municipal auditorium.

A twelve hour display today will bring to a close the showing of innumerable exhibits of hobbies and collections of all kinds shown by students and faculty members from practically all Santa Clara county schools.

"This exhibit is of special educational value for student teachers, in that it shows such a variety of hobbies and outside interests. Also, for everyone it is certain to stir up interest in hobbies," stated Nick Germano, college chairman of the affair.

The hours are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Winners in the recent O. A. Hale Awards contest will be announced on Recognition Day, June 15, according to Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department.

Prizes totaling $225 will be awarded for the best essays on "Spirit, the Infinite and Only Reality".

It Can't Happen Here?

AN EDITORIAL

A harsh note of discord struck into the student government set-up in the council elections last Wednesday, according to rumors. Struck not by the students themselves, but allegedly by faculty members, who have no right, legal or otherwise, to stick their fingers into student politics.

Dame Rumor says that certain instructors disbanded classes earlier to allow departmental blocks of voters to cast their ballots.

The Spartan Daily sincerely hopes that these rumors are false; these rumors be spiked. Exponents and opponents, alike, of the situation, i. e.; THAT THERE ARE RUMORS OF FACULTY INTERVENTION IN THE ELECTION, must understand the impartial stand of the Spartan Daily.

These rumors, like a proverbial locust plague, strike a campus every so many years. We definitely stand for student government, unhampered by the shadowish background of a faculty.

Hence, we believe the whispers are false, for certainly they would be a boomerang, and the only losers are not, in the final analysis, any innocent student candidates, but the faculty itself.

But in spite of what we ourselves may believe, there is hue and cry, and so, we, the Spartan Daily, as a newspaper, could only point out what the situation seems to be. It is up to the students themselves to find out, for better or worse.

"Of the people, by the people, etc" . . . the words and music to the ideal "student government" theme song. THE STUDENTS OF SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE HAVE ALWAYS BEEN EXPONENTS OF REPRESENTATIVE STUDENT GOVERNMENT, AND KEEN COMPETITIVE STUDENT POLITICS. WE HOPE IT REMAINS SO.

Prexy Says . . .

"It is deplorable that there are rumors of faculty participation in the elections . . . let us hope that the rumors are false . . . for student government should be run by students," said student body Prexy Paul Becker yesterday.

Former Senator Herbert C. Jones has been secured for the Thursday meeting.

GRANDMOTHER'S LEGACY

By RAYMOND WALLACE

I TOOK THE letter from the box in some surprise, for it had been long since I had heard from the little northern village whose postmark it bore. The message it carried was the inevitable one which marks the end of all earthly careers. Grandmother was dead.

My thoughts went skimming back over the period of my childhood, when I had spent so many long months on her quiet farm. I remember the morning prayers which took place every day before breakfast. We gathered in the living room and sat on stiff chairs with the solemn and unhappy air which the more virulent Christians fancy is an expression of religious ecstasy.

WHEN GRANDMOTHER had finished reading the day's chapter from the Bible, we all got up, turned solemnly around, knelt before our chairs, and buried our faces in our hands, as if in silent grief, while she took her religious tools in hand and sculptured out the day's prayer.

Occasionally, as a mark of special favor, grandmother would delegate the reading of the Bible to some other member of the family. The prayer she never relinquished. When my turn came, I took the book and read a short chapter—the eighteenth of I Samuel, in which is related the story of David's marriage to Saul's daughter.

A STARTLED LOOK round the room. Grandmother cleared her throat and suggested that I read another chapter. "Take something in Genesis," she said, "no doubt thinking herself safe there."

But I knew certain portions of the Bible better than she, for she concentrated on salvation while I read the other parts. I read the thirty-eighth chapter of Genesis, which treats of the man in which Onan comforted his brother's widow, and sundry other matters.

Grandmother drew a long breath and sent me out of the room. For several weeks I was forbidden to attend family prayers, the severest punishment she knew, which resulted in my sleeping a half hour later in the mornings.

Football Men Give Pigskin Preview Next Tuesday In Intra-Squad Grid Clash

Two Strings Of Veterans To Oppose Junior College Transfers And Last Year's Frosh Gridders

By BOB WORK

Practice for next Tuesday's intra-squad football game got under way early last night when head Coach Dud DeGroot ran his outfit through a short drill of fundamentals and a long stiff scrimmage session.

The game which is scheduled to start at five o'clock this coming Tuesday afternoon is open to the public and students free of charge. The five o'clock starting gun will enable the local business people to attend for their first taste of what Spartan football will be this fall.

LARGE CROWD TUESDAY

Coach DeGroot, in the last two months of spring practice, has developed a squad that is ready to take to the field next week in the regular mid season manner. The squad, although it is not yet definitely lined up into regular strings, is ready to play the type of ball that should draw a large crowd next Tuesday.

Coach DeGroot announced earlier in the week that he has picked two strings of veterans and will play them against a large field of newcomers which is made up of junior college transfers and men up from Coach Dee Portal's last year's freshman outfit.

VETERAN STRINGS

The two veteran strings are:

Voorhees	C.	Tichenal
		(new man)
DuBose	RG.	Buffa
Presley	LG.	Hamlow
		(last year's frosh)
Drexel	RT.	Bronzan
		(new man)
Ucovich	LT.	Carpenter
Thomas	LE.	Price
Wattenbarger	RE.	Berry
Manoogian	RH.	Collins
Hilton	LH.	Rocchi

Sanders Q. Birlem Lewis F. McPherson

The new men show plenty of strength in practically every position. Their clamping down on the more experienced veterans Tuesday is not at all improbable.

NEW FULLBACKS

Perhaps the newcomers' greatest strength is in the fullback spot. Carlton Perego, Modesto J. C. man, Leroy Zimmerman, the iron man from last year's frosh, and Bob Boucke will alternate at that position. The shade of preference will probably go to Perego with Zimmerman close behind. Boucke, by virtue of his fast improvement in the last few weeks may also break into the show.

The guard position is also well fortified. Doan "Red Barry" Carmody, from last year's frosh, Joe Murphy, who took a considerable turn at regular play last year, and Burt "230-lb." Vossler are the top men in the guard spots.

HALFBACKS

The halfbacks at five strong show such names as the feds' number two man, Herm Zetterquist . . . at right half, Clayton Hager, the boy who is going to wipe up next year's yearling circuit . . . also at right half. The left halves are Jim Cranford, whose top spot playing may very likely call him back to the early practice session next fall, Hugh Staley, a last year's frosh, who already shows indications of breaking into the regulars at an early date, and Mickey Slingluff. Mickey is practically assured of top billing in his position. As soon as he hits his regular stride of lat fall, Mickey will undoubtedly become one of the bigger factors in the Spartan backfield.

WALKER'S WATERDOG...

Howard Withycombe Rated Sixth In Recent Sports Poll

By BEN JOHNSON

(Spartan Daily Sports Writer)
Introducing Captain Howard Withycombe, captain of the San Jose State college swimming team and number six man on the recently completed All-Spartan Sports Poll.

Captain Howard Withycombe in three years of varsity swimming competition has set a record that should stand for some years to come as a mark for new comers to shoot at.

28 WINS

Beginning in his freshman year when he swam against varsity competition, the Spartan ace merman has been victorious in 28 backstroke races while the defeat side of the ledger shows only eight.

In his frosh season, Howard was elected captain of the team and won eight dorsal races while losing six. This was all against college and club team competition.

SOPH

The next year, his sophomore season, Howard swam in 11 backstroke races and was victorious in every one. In plain words, he was undefeated during his sophomore year. This past season Captain Howard was defeated only once, and that time by Ken McNicoll from Fullerton junior college, southern California champion who was forced to break the Spartan Pool record in beating Sparta's champ.

PHENOMENAL

During his phenomenal three years, Howard has set an amazing number of school and pool records. The school record in the 100-yard backstroke was held by Dave Condit at 1:12.6 until Withycombe took it down to 1:10.4 and since that time he has reduced it to the present standard of 1:05. made during the barnstorm tour last season at Salt Lake City. The pool record in the century is 1:06 also made last season.

In the 150 yard dorsal event, Withycombe also clipped the record held by Condit and at present holds the college record in the event at 1:45.6. Until the Fuller-

Spartan captain is the 300 yard individual medley mark of 4:06.7.

CLIMAX

As a crowning climax, the captain led the varsity swimming team in scoring during the past season with a total of 92 points scored in eight events, thirty points ahead of his nearest rival.
